

Why it is beneficial to belong to the International Association for Recovery Coach Professionals: (IARCP)

Networking Opportunities:

Joining the IARCP provides an excellent platform for members to connect with Recovery Coaches worldwide. These connections can lead to valuable partnerships, mentorships, and career opportunities.

Professional Development:

IARCP, in partnership with CCAR, offers webinars and discounts to training programs and conferences, designed to help members to continuously develop their ART. These opportunities can significantly enhance your knowledge and skills.

Advocacy and Representation:

The IARCP actively advocates for its members and upholds the fidelity of the Recovery Coaching model. It serves as a robust voice in lobbying for issues that are crucial to coaches, regardless of their location.

Career Advancement:

Belonging to a respected professional association like the IARCP can significantly enhance your professional reputation and credibility. This can open doors to career advancement and increased job opportunities.

Continuing Education:

Membership in the IARCP entails a commitment to maintaining your RCP Designation, ensuring that you remain up-to-date with industry changes and developments.

Peer Support and Collaboration:

Being a part of the IARCP allows you to collaborate with peers who share similar challenges and opportunities in the field. You can exchange experiences, seek advice, and collaborate on various projects.

These advantages highlight the value of joining the International Association for Recovery Coach Professionals (IARCP) and how it can benefit individuals in the field of recovery coaching. To learn more, connect with us at rcp@ccar.us
